

1-2-1-1 Press

4 is on the ball. 1 and 2 are around the elbows. 1 and 2 will deny passes to the middle but want to encourage a pass to the corner. 3 is middle but shades ball side. 5 is back but shades ball side as well.

On the inbounds pass, 4 will trap with the guard on that side. 2 will protect the middle first but can also look to possibly steal a pass back to the inbounder. 3 will take away the sideline pass. We do not want to allow a pass to the middle. A pass backwards does not hurt us.

If they do pass it backward, we are back into the 1-2-1-1 set. 4 will chase the ball and try to force it back to a sideline.

If they do get the pass up the sideline, 3 needs to sprint and cut them off. 1 will chase and trap. 5, 2 and 4 need to sprint to get past the level of the ball and protect.
